

Building towers out of dry spaghetti. They had to be strong enough to support a marshmallow.

Since returning to school, Lynx class have been carrying out many investigations linked to our topic of materials.

Investigating properties of materials

Investigating soluble materials

